

OpenJS Foundation Individual Contributor License Agreement v1.0

Thank you for your interest in the OpenJS Foundation. This document clarifies the terms under which you may make Contributions — which may include without limitation, software, I bug fixes, configuration changes, documentation, or any other materials — to any of the projects owned or managed by the OpenJS Foundation.

If you have questions about these terms, please contact us at info@openjsf.org. The current version of this CLA can be found at <https://individual-cla.openjsf.org/>.

You accept and agree to the following terms and conditions for your present and future Contributions submitted to the OpenJS Foundation. Except for the licenses granted herein and in the applicable Project Licenses (defined below), you reserve all right, title, and interest in and to your Contributions.

Licenses

Each project has an open source software license, as indicated in the project’s repository, that governs code contributions and certain related material (the “Project Code License”). Some projects also have a documentation license that differs from the Project Code License (the “Documentation License”), as also indicated in the project’s repository. If the Project does not have a Documentation License, then the Project Code License applies to code contributions and all related materials, including documentation and sample code. If the Project has a Documentation License that differs from the Project Code License, the Documentation License applies to documentation and sample code, and the Project Code License applies to code contributions and all other related materials associated with the project. The Project Code License and Documentation License, if any, are referred to collectively as the “Project Licenses.”

You certify that:

- Your Contributions are either:
 1. Created in whole or in part by you and you have the right to submit them under the applicable Project Licenses; or
 2. Based upon previous work that, to the best of your knowledge, is covered under an appropriate open source license and you have the right under that license to submit that work with modifications, whether created in whole or in part by you, under the applicable Project Licenses and the open source license(s) indicated in the contributed files, if different; or

3. Provided directly to you by some other person who certified (1) or (2) and you have not modified them.
- You understand and agree that the OpenJS Foundation projects and your Contributions are public and that a record of the Contributions (including all metadata and personal information you submit with them) is maintained indefinitely and may be redistributed consistent with the OpenJS Foundation's policies and the requirements of the applicable Project Licenses where they are relevant.
 - You are granting your Contributions to the OpenJS Foundation under the terms of the Project Licenses as noted in the project's repository.
